Blink is a modern, dark, witty, fast, romantic comedy two-hander about a distanced relationship that develops between two social misfits, through the walls of their London flats. Sophie (IT Programmer, care giver, introvert) and Jonah (raised on a religious commune in Yorkshire – OCD and socially inept) plus a mangey old fox, called Scruffilitis

Whilst charming and delightful, the play is equally disturbing and intriguing, and has you wondering if it weren't for the 'love' would this be a psychological thriller?

A fascinating short play (70-75 mins) - I am looking for two extraordinary actors to find these multi-faceted characters

Character	Description	Playing age
Jonah	Geeky, awkward, fidgeting with chronic OCD, social ineptness. Will be required to play other characters in the play	Young Adult (probably playing age 20-30) But flexible – its more important that I have a believable pairing
Sophie	Introvert, grieving, innocent Will be required to play other characters in the play	As Above
